1.- 4. Honoring Glen Woods who works at City Market and has walked from his home in Apple Tree to work every work day for almost 17 years

6.-8. Honoring Chief Sadler for his long service to the Town of New Castle. His friends called him 'X', short for Chris. His brother, Les, thinks it would be nice to name a crosswalk after Chris if we choose not to name the bridge.

9.-12. Honoring Greg Russi and his tireless dedication to the project

12. Because this was Greg's dream

15. After the area's most prominent geological feature that brings recreational, economic and aesthetic qualities to the town. Also because Russi did not build the bridge on his own, he had the town council, staff and engineers, the County and State who all played instrumental, indispensable roles

17. Simple, easy to pronounce and remember

18. Means "Strong Bridge"

21. Because it unifies New Castle

22. Founding Father, friend of Chief Colorado of the Ute Indians

23. Because of the new in-town trail named Jolley, honoring the long-time ranchers, the bridge could "Be Jolley" after Brett Jolley

26. A safe haven for pedestrians

27. Because it joins the N & S sides of the Grand Hogback, a significant geographical feature of the area
